

Joy and Jim Perry Scholarship

Joy and Jim Perry are examples of the transformational impact a college education can make in a person's life. Making a transformational impact is their goal in the creation of this scholarship.

Joy earned her BS in General Biology from Purdue University and MS in Plant Pathology from UW Madison. After an extensive teaching career Joy retired as Senior Lecturer of Biological Science at University of Wisconsin Fox Valley. Joy is an avid gardener and shares this knowledge promoting community and school gardens and locally sourced food.

Jim began college at UW Marathon County, a 2-year campus. Earning his BS, MS, and PhD in the Biological Sciences, Jim taught and chaired the Department of Biology, Wildlife and Fisheries at Frostburg State University in Maryland. Jim retired as University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Campus Executive Officer & Dean having served in that position for 18 years.

Joy and Jim are avid outdoors people and environmentalists.
